MAYBE A DARK HORSE

There are some prospects that a Republican dark horse will figure in the presidential conventions next year. One would not think that were possible, considering the names that are already mentioned. There are in the order of prominence just now General Leonard Wood, Governor Lowden, Senator Johnson, Mr. Tafy, Senator Poindexter, Senator Harding, Mr. Hughes and a few others less prominent. It is always an interesting time when there is a dark horse prancing around in the outskirts, hoping to get in, but he is the last one mentioned ,and there is little hope of his winning the prize until in the heat he makes a dash and wins the race.

The last dark horse convention we had was in 1888, when John Sherman led the ballot, but soon gave way to Depew, Gresham, Alger, Harrison and Allison. There were eight ballots when Harrison was nominated by a vote of 541. Blaine figured in the ballot, but his friends could not rally enough votes to make a good showing. This was the convention where McKinley received a big vote which constantly increased until he finally arose in the convention and told his friends they must stop voting for him, as he was there as a delegate for John Sherman.

There seemed to have been some opposition to McKinley's nomination which has not been generally understood, but which may come out some of these days as a part of Ohio political history. The Republican convention next June will be one of tremendous interest, and with so many candidates in the field, in which Governor Coolidge will be a prominent figure, speculation will run high as to which favorite son will receive the coveted prize.

GENERAL WOOD

At a largely attended mass meeting of citizens in Kansas City, on both sides of the line, held last week, steps were taken to ask the government for protection in the event of trouble over the walkout of some of the railroad employes. This event coupled with the embargo on coal production brought about a condition of affairs in that locality which looked anything but inviting to the residents of that metropolis. The meeting adopted a resolution also asking that Gen Wood, who made such a success of bringing order out of chaos both in Omaha and Gary, be sent to that city to take charge of affairs.

Gen. Wood was not permitted to serve his country abroad, but not only in spite of but because of that unjust and odious discrimination against him, he has had an opportunity in his own land to render military service not less essential and vital than that which his comrades in arms rendered at Chateau-Thierry and in the Argonne; indeed a service requiring if possible the exercise of even greater discretion and fortitude.

It is a great thing to win a victory by "straight fighting" over a foreign soil. It is certainly no less great to win a victory over equally malignant foes on home soil and to do so not merely by force of arms, but still more by the discreet exercise of the highest faculties of civil as well as military administration.

WHAT PROHIBITION DID

The following report has been made by an observer for the Iron Age in a recent visit to the steel strike area:

"In my first hand study at Pittsburg, McKeesport, Wheeling and Weirton I talked with many people regarding the part prohibition is playing. Steel mill officials, city and borough officials, Sheriffs, police and returned soldiers recently returned from the other side, American employed in and on strike at the plants, employes, Chamber of Commerce members, clothing salesmen, shoe and other tradesmen, restaurant proprietors as well as bankers and ministers, all agreed that prohibition is a blessing. Not all of them believe in prohibition. In fact most of them do not believe in it. Nevertheless they feel that at this particular time it is fortunate that prohibition is in force."

HEALTH BOND COUPONS

A new feature of the 1919 Christmas Seal campaign is the Health Bond. They come in denominations of five, ten, twenty-five, fifty and one hundred dollars.

Health Bonds are bought by persons who desire to materially aid the fight on tuberculosis and the improving of the public health and do not have use for the large number of seals their money would buy at one cent each.

Coupons for each of the twelve months in the year are attached. Each one carries one of the uses to which the money is applied.

Liberty Bonds return interest in money. Health Bonds return interest in good health, for Health Bonds will improve the health of your community and your neighbors and your health depends partly on the health of your neighbors.

What we face today is the inevitable outcome of a policy of opportunism. We have had a government of opportunists instead of statesmen; men who were satisfied with the plaudits of the moment; men who believed that life was a matter of promise and fine words; men who cared not where they got their political support, so long as it helped them out of the difficulty of the moment, furthered their personal ambitions, or flattered their personal vanities.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

A number of newspapers in northwestern Pennsylvania have advanced their prices from two to three cents per copy, because of the increased cost of news print. Newspapers like every other form of business, are suffering from the high cost of materials, and as a consequence must increase the prices of their products.

If a citizen is found with burglar tools in his possession he is liable to a long term of imprisonment. If a foreigner is found with T. N. T. in his possession, he is liable to a sojourn on Ellis Island, and turkey with fixings on holidays.—New York Telegram.

We are confronted with a nation-wide embargo on the railroads as a result of the coal strike controversy and many millions of men may be thrown out of work. War is what Sherman described it, but getting back to peace seems to be even worse

"Kathleen Mavourneen."

The words of the famous song "Kathleen Mavourneen" were written by Mrs. Julia M. Crawford, an Irish poetess, who was born in County Cavan toward the close of the eighteenth century. By taking up her abode in a small town in Wiltshire, England, where she resided for many years, her biographers have been led into the error of supposing that she was of English birth. Besides "Kathleen Mavourneen" she wrote more than 100 lyrics, mostly Irish in sentiment, and published, with F. N. Crouch as the composer of the music, in a volume of "Irish Songs" in 1840. Mrs. Crawford also contributed a great deal of verse for the Metropolitan Magazine, edited by Captain Marryat in London between 1830 and 1840. It was in this magazine that "Kathleen Mavourneen" first appeared.

OIL BURNERS POSSIBLE IF STRIKE CONTINUES

If the strike of the coal miners should be sufficiently protracted to reduce seriously the available supply of fuel, a large number of locomotives could be converted to burn oil instead of coal, on fairly short notice, according to information gathered by the mechanical department of the railroad administration. Without expecting that such a contingency should arise, an investigation has been made of the possibilities, which shows that a locomotive could be converted into an oil burner in about ten days in any of the principal shops of the railroads, or the locomotive companies, and that about 250 could be converted per week. It would also be possible to obtain the use of about 1,200 tank cars which were used by the ordnance department of the army, of 7,000 gallons capacity, which could readily be converted for use in transporting an oil supply.

ELECTRICAL WORKERS QUIT STRIKE AT DONORA MILLS

ed to tell the men here the truth about the strike and they got him sidetracked and wouldn't let him. He knew the strike was lost and that there was no hope, but they kept him quiet. John Corrigan is honest and he tells the truth and he wanted to tell all the men the truth when he got back from Cleveland.

"Right now, because I tried to call this meeting tonight and tell the electrical workeers' local the truth they are beginning to report I have been bougha over by the steel company. The man that reports I was bought over by the steel company is a dirty liar and if he will let me know who he is I'll make him pay for it. I'll take him into the courts and make him prove it.

Union Cards No Good.

"When Secretary Hartman of our local went to Detroit he found out that the union cards we have are not recognized anywhere outside. We haven't any union. We have been led to all the way through.

"Hodges has been the leader in keeping the lies spread here and in keeping the men out of the mills. He is not going to keep our local out any longer. We are going back to work tomorrow or this week if we can.

Says Herald Told Truth

"I was one that said the Evening Herald lied. I want you to say for me in your paper tomorrow that your paper has told the truth, although we were told so many different kind of lies we didn't believe it.

"When you told about the organizers having that row in Pittsburg, it was all true. We found that out, though we don't know where you got hold of it. Now I'm asking you to make this statement because I want every worker still out of the mills to know what we have found out.

Strike Only on Here

"Mills have been working right along at other places. We didn't believe it, because we were told that all of them were out. Hartman found out that the mills at Gary are working 100 per cent. Corrigan found out about the true conditions at Cleveland.

"We went to Pittsburg and do you know, we found there hasn't hardly been any strike in Pittsburg at any time. The mills at Homestead and everywhere else are working right along and have been working.

Promised Everything

"They kept telling us they had the railroad brotherhoods ready to go out on a sympathetic strike, that the New York longshoremen were out in sympathy with us and that the miners were striking to help us.

"I have been making some investigations and find there isn't a chance of the railroad brotherhoods going out and never has been. The longshoremen have all gone back to work. The miners would have been back to work if they had got their 31 per cent increase. They don't care anything about the steel workers and never did.

Says Hodges Worst

"Hodges is the worst of the whole outfit. I would almost say he is crooked, but I can't prove it. He has been everything else, anyway, and I want him to know that I said so and that every other worker on strike is going to think so when they find out the truth.

"That wild story they told the strikers here about fourteen men being killed in the Monessen mills is only one example of the kind of stuff they have been spreading around. We're going back to work, if they will take us and we're through with the kind of union stuff."

Had Been Given Permit

Robinson had obtained a permit from Burgess Harry A. Cox for last night's meeting of the electrical workers' local at which he intended to bring out the facts as he had discovered them. It was then that he found the janitor had been instructed not to permit him to hold a meeting.

Robinson's statement was made in the presence of a number of the electrical workers who have been on strike and Burgess Cox, to whom they appealed after being shut out of the union hall.

Speaking of the coal strike, the Philadelphia Public Ledger says, that if the nation is now plunged at the beginning of winter into all the suffering, financial loss and social peril of a coal strike, it will have the satisfaction of knowing that it is paying a part of its long overdue bill for permitting the transcendently important affairs of a hundred and ten million people to be directed by one of the finest collections of incompetents in captivity.

FIRST PASSENGER TRAIN GREAT EVENT

The first passenger traffic on the Ten Mile Branch of the Monongahela Division, P. R. R., between Jefferson and Millsboro, on Monday morning, was an event of more than usual importance to that community. When the first passenger train pulled out of Jefferson for Millsboro a new epoc in history of that town and community was reached. That it was such an event in the annals of the borough and district was shown by the large crowd collected at the station to witness the train depart with more than a dozen passengers on board. All down the Ten Mile valley enthusiastic ruralites were out to greet the train.

The railroad company has already started work on the construction of a brick passenger station which will be located in Jefferson borough, directly opposite the new coal mining town of Mathers.

Buying An Income

Do you realize that when you put your money into some safe and secure investment, you are really buying an income for yourself. When the amount invested is safe and the interest or dividends are paid regularly when due the investment is satisfactory. This does not apply to speculation where the speculator sacrifices safety in the hope of making big profits.

There are two factors to be considered in making an investment; first, safety of principal; and second, rate of return. The first is the most important but the second is more important now than ever before on account of the increase in the cost of living. Just as labor earns more now than a few years ago, so money invested should bring in a higher rate of return than it did before the War.

Some people prefer to invest in property, others in mortgages or bonds or stocks. In each of the above classes, there are both good and bad investments. Some bonds are not as good as some stocks, especially preferred stocks. Money is lost in both mortgages and property investments. Each should be judged by the actual value of the assets back of it and by its earning power.

Consider West Penn Railways Company 6 per cent preferred Stock. It is issued by a company long established, not one which is just starting and promises to accomplish great things.

It has paid dividends for a long period of years, through the panic of 1907 and the War period and therefore is classed as a seasoned investment stock, not an untried speculative one. Morover, these preferred dividends are earned over 3 times.

The business of the West Penn includes both electric railways and electric light and power, about 55 per cent being derived from the latter. The railways business is showing a very satisfactory increase over last year due largely to increased traffic. The light and power business is also growing rapidly, there now being contracts on hand where connections have not as yet been made which will yield an additional revenue estimated at over $450,000.00 per year.

The Company owns directly and indirectly properties of great value which are serving with necessities (light, power and transportation) a rapidly growing territory with a steadily increasing demand.

This stock is free of state, county, and municipal taxes in Pennsylvania and dividends are free of the normal Federal Income Tax.

This Stock is Now Being Sold at $82.00 Per Share to Yield 7.32 per cent

ELECTRICAL WORKERS QUIT STRIKE AT DONORA MILLS

Serious Charges Against Those who are in Charge of Strikers

WILL TRY TO GET JOBS BACK

The Mail this afternoon publishes the following story which is taken from the columns of the Evening Herald of Donora, and which states definitely that two of the organizations which have been prominent in the strike against the steel companies have called off the struggle and will return to work just as fast as they can be placed by the company officials.

The row referred to by Robinson and spoken of by the Herald is said to have taken place about a week ago in Pittsburg, in which Foster, who is the secretary of the strikers' organization, is said to have threatened to kick one Davis out of the meeting because he said he proposed to call the strike off in the Youngstown district, because, as he claimed, it had been lost. It is further said that in the controversy which occurred at this meeting Fitzpatrick, Foster and Feeney were of one accord and opposed any efforts of Davis and others to call off the strike.

The full story as published by the Herald is as follows:

(From the Donora Herald)

Donora's mill electrical workers affiliated with the so-called union organized by labor agitators here last night quite the steel strike.

Discovering that they had been lied to and had been made the victims of misrepresentation concerning the status of the strike in the mills elsewhere, the electrical workers local last night sought to meet at the Union Hall on Thompson avenue and were blocked from holding the meeting by orders coming from Hodges, first aid to W. Z. Foster.

Following this action on the part of Hodges, Carl C. Robinson, president of the local, who has been one of the most enthusiastic strike leaders gave out a public statement in which he denounced the methods by which the strikers have been deceived and called upon not only the electrical workers but every other American worker still idle to return at once to the mills.

This followed a series of incidents which have brought out that the strike leaders in the Donora and Monessen district have deliberately been lying to keep the workingmen here out of their jobs, according to Robinson who asked that his statement be published.

"We have been made fools of," said Robinson, "and I am willing to take the lead in admitting it. This strike was over more than four weeks ago and since that time the men who are out here have been kept out of the mills by a series of lies told by Hodges and other labor organizers.

Fayette City Visited By A Destructive Fire This Morning

A destructive fire in Fayette City at an early hour this morning destroyed several buildings and caused the destruction of at least $25,000 worth of property.

The fire was discovered about 4:30 o'clock by Edw. Vaughan, on his way to work, in the rear of the meat market of Walter Stockton on Main street. The building is owned by I. C. McKay in which was also located the tailor store of Dave Rosenberg, while Mrs. McKay occupied apartments on the second floor.

Owing to the fact that the fire alarm system was out of order it was necessary to summon the different members of the fire company by phone, which caused considerable delay. Before the company arrived on the scene the fire spread to the building owned by John Hare, in which the postoffice was located, while Mrs. Willian. Athey occupied apartments on the second floors. The Bell theatre, adjoining the Hare building, also caught fire and the Bell family occupying an apartment over the theatre, barely had time to escape from the building before their former home was in flames.

The fire having assumed such alarming proportions a telephone message was sent to the Monessen department which responded promptly and greatly aided the local company in subduing the flames.

The Bell theatre and the Hare building were practically destroyed with all their contents. In the postoffice a considerable quantity of mail was destroyed by fire and water. The McKay building, where the fire originated, was not so badly damaged by fire but the interior was badly wrecked. Some goods were saved from the Rosenberg store but a larger quantity was damaged by water. The contents of the meat shop were also destroyed.

The origin of the fire is not known.

CLAIMS ACCIDENT WAS UNAVOIDABLE

On trial in court room No. 1 at Washington when court adjourned Wednesday evening was the suit of Charles Little against George Kelly a claim for damages for the loss of ahorse and wrecking of a buggy when hit by an automobile driven by the defendant. The acicdent occurred on the evening of October 24, 1918, on the Donora-Webster bridge. The car of the defendant crashed into the rear of the plaintiff's rig. The buggy was wrecked and the horse thrown against one of the iron columns of the bridge, its back being broken, causing its death. The defendant claims the accident was unavoidable, that he was blinded by the approach of another automobile, and in trying to avoid the approaching car crashed into the rig driven by Little.

PAY COMPLIMENT TO LITTLE CHILD

The little baby girl of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Reeves of Belle Vernon has been selected by the Johnson & Johnson Toilet & Baby Powder company of Newark, N. J., to feature in their future advertisements of baby powder. Last fall the father snapped his baby playing with a Johnson powder box and the picture was so good that he decided to send it to the Johnson Powder Co. One day recently he received a very appreciative letter from the firm, stating the pose was so unique that they would like to use it in their future advertisements, and as a slight token of their appreciation to the little girl sent her a dozen boxes of baby powder for a birthday present.

MINERS' LEADERS HAVE BEEN CALLED INTO COURT

Claim They Have Not Carried Out Terms of Strike Recall Order

OPERATORS OFFER NEW SCALE

Miners, and particularly officials of miners' unions are faced with a new phase of the strike situation, in that the United States government has again invoked the powers of the Federal courts in an effort to call off the strike of the 400,000 miners of the country.

Officials of the unions have been directed to appear in court at Indianapolis, Ind., next Tuesday to answer the charges which were made against them yesterday. It is alleged that all of the officers have conspired to keep the strike in force and thus have violated the terms of the injunction.

The officers of the national union are the first named in the summons, and it is possible that officers from all over the central competitive district will be summoned to court to answer the charges which have been made.

In the meantime representatives of all the larger coal mining corporations in the United States on Wednesday reached an agreement upon a new scale for mine workers, according to a telegram from Washington, and it will be submitted to the Fuel Administration today for approval. It embodies, it is said, a little more than 14 per cent increase for the men suggested by Dr. Garfield, fuel administrator, as the government proposal for dealing with the strike.

While the Pittsburg district is being well supplied with fuel, owing to the operation of a large number of non-union mines in a number of the counties in this section of the state, the balance of the country is not so fortunately situated. In many localities it has been found necessary to close down what are called non-essential industries, with a prospect of further curtailment if the strike continues for any additional length of time. In any event there is not likely to be any change until after the hearing before the Federal court in Indianapolis next Tuesday.

STREET CARS ARE NOW USING OLD TERMINAL

After a period of eighteen months the West Penn Railway company continued operations of their street cars to their old stop in front of the Snowdon building, in Brownsville, Monday afternoon. Cars were discontinued to the Neck last May, when the tracks began to slip, necessitating the construction of a retaining wall on Water street, opposite the borough building.

BOOTS AND MONEY ARE BOTH GONE

That high top leather boots is not a good place to bank money has been discovered by George Dzubinsky, of Webster, who is not only minus a pair of such footwear, but likewise $2,800 in cash, which he had deposited therein.

A fellow boarder, Andrew Solsvokyck decided to return to his native land, and in packing up his personal belongings, came across the boots. As they appeared to have been thrown aside, at least not worn for many months, he decideed to take them along and give them to his brother, who lives in the old country. On the way over Andrew imparted to one of his steamship friends that he was taking over a pair of boots for his brotheer when he was informed that such wearing apparel was subject to a duty of $25. As Andrew did not care to pay such a price he took the boots from his trunk and heaved them overboard into the ocean.

After Solsvokyck's departure Dzubincky discovereed his loss, and going to Albert Erdelyi in Donora had him send a cablegram to Rotterdam to have the boots returned. A few days later the reply came back: "Duty high, oots thrown into the ocean." It may be that some one will rescue the boots, but it is not likely that Dzubinsky will ever get his money back. Moreover he will be more inclined to depend upon banks as a safe deposit for such valuables.
